A CREEPY REFLECTION

Seven years ago, when I was ten (years old) I had the most frightening experience in my life.

I was in my house taking a shower at my bathroom. Ten minutes later, after I had just finished washing my hair I heard a strange noise that ~~comes~~<sup>came</sup> from my brother's room, so I put on a large white dress and I went to the corridor.

The door of my brother's bedroom was wide open and I noticed that at the end of the room was a little girl. <sup>She was like a ghost.</sup> I was shocked, the girl was wearing a long white dress and her hair was dark and entangled. I started running to the stairs, that were next to the room, and then I realized that the girl was running too! I started screaming and as soon as I reached the stairs I realized that the girl was my reflection in the huge bedroom(s) windows.

In the end, I felt so confused... When I told it to my mum she ~~can't~~<sup>couldn't</sup> stop laughing. It was the most frightening and embarrassed thing that ~~has~~<sup>happened</sup> to me.

Afterwards I decided ~~not~~<sup>not</sup> to (never) look again my reflection after the shower!!
